Photograph Albums.

Everybody now a days must have a Photograph Album, to be in fashion. It is an indispensable article for preserving the counterfeit presentment of one's friends, and constitutes one of the chief and most interesting ornaments of the parlor.

The sale of photograph Albums consequent upon the almost universal desire to possess them has been immense during the past few weeks. It has been the leading department of trade in most book stores, as well as in many fancy stores. May it not be with others as with many, as it was with a young person who lately showed us several pictures of young ladies. After looking at them and admiring them we began to interrogate him whom they represented, and his reply from first to last was, that he did not know.

A distinguished Englishman made it a principle in collecting pictures, statuary, &c. to get what is representative of somebody that has done something, or of something that was done by somebody, rather than what is beautiful, had the right view of ornamentation in regard to such things. Being desirous of obtaining something of Watt the philosopher and inventor, he solicited his writing table, chair and pen, each in turn, none of which the improver of the steam engine was willing to part with; but said however that he would order a statue by Chantry costing £1500 ($7,500.) "This is the best of all," said the distinguished Lord, "for in it I have, as it were, your speaking presence."

Would it not be well for photograph hunters, who are running a race to see who shall first fill an Album with faces, to consider a little the suggestion made by the celebrated Englishman. Why should you give a place in your Album to any but faces that represent something more than muscular symmetry or ordinary vacant, unspeaking prettiness? Nothing tires the fancy sooner than a smooth very pretty face, the crowning beauty of a symmetrical form, the chief and about the only difference between it and a statue being, that the former is a proud, vitalized, conscious lump of clay, while the latter is devoid of these attributes.

It will not require a very large Album to hold all the photographs one cares to preserve for his or her own personal inspection, and such as these will not be paraded before every visitor that may chance to enter your home or place of temporary abode. The young lady whose photograph is found in every fancy man's Album, is not the young lady that a prudent, thoughtful young man would be likely to seek for a wife. Nor should the young lady be ready to accept the young man who offers himself to her in marriage, whose face is seen in every young woman's Album in town and city. There is such a thing as being too common. In this way one loses self respect as he or she does the respect of those with whom they meet and associate.

In these suggestions do not misapprehend us, and then charge us with decrying the use of photograph Albums, for we have avoided that. We do wish to be understood, however, as speaking against their abuse. Faces find a place in Albums that could not be admitted into the family were the originals to present themselves at the door. This should not be. It serves to familiarize the innocent with representatives of vice and profligacy, one of the first and surest steps in the road that leads to the loss of character. Be as choice in selecting faces for your photograph Albums, as you are in selecting friends for social intercourse. Let your ambition be to see how good an Album you can make, rather than how large a one you can fill. Quality and quantity should be your aim—a small select, and not a large miscellaneous collection.

Wash for Harness.

Take Neat's Foot Oil, and Ivory, or Patent Black—the latter well pulverized, so as to be made so before using. Mix thoroughly—adding the black until the oil is well colored, or quite black. In cool weather the oil should be warmed somewhat before mixing. With a sponge apply a light coat of the mixture—only what the leather will readily absorb unless the harness is dry—which will be in from two hours to a half or a whole day, depending on the weather and previous condition of the leather—wash thoroughly with soap suds. In making the suds, use pure castile soap and cold rain water (warm water should never be used on harness leather.) Apply the sponge. Rub off with buckskin. This will give the harness a nice glossy surface, and the leather will retain a good color, and continue pliable for months. If it becomes soiled with mud or sweat, an application of soap and water, as above directed, (without oiling,) will be sufficient to give it a bright appearance.

Two applications of this oil and black mixture a year (or once every six months) will be sufficient to keep harness, as ordinarily used, in good order. It may be necessary for livery men, and others who use harness constantly, to apply the oil oftener—but in most cases two oilings a year, and washing with suds when soiled, will keep a harness in good trim for sight and service. This process will give a large dividend in extra service and durability, to say nothing of improved appearance. Alderman Baker assures us that the same, or similar application is just the thing for carriage tops which are made of top leather. The only difference in treatment, that less oil should be used, or rather a lighter coating applied—and it should be washed off before drying in, top leather being thin, and much more penetrable than harness. Of course the mixture would not answer for enameled leather, of which some carriage tops are constructed.—Exchange.

INTERESTING FROM MEXICO.—A correspondent of the Herald writes from the City of Mexico, under date of July 24th, as follows:

Since my last letter rumors of battles and victories keep up a perpetual excitement. But the truth is that no general engagement has taken place since the battle of Cerro de Borego, but daily skirmishes have occurred between the French and the Mexican guerrillas which in the end must prove fatal to the French. The peasants, partly attracted by booty and others by revenge, have formed themselves into guerrilla bands, and constantly lie in ambush to surprise the convoys from Vera Cruz that are destined to relieve the starving army in Orizaba. Their revenge is stimulated by the outrages committed by the banditti of Marquez, who after robbing them, have burned their houses, and what is worse in many instances abused their wives and daughters. The daring of these guerrillas is almost incredible; they have taken prisoners from Vera Cruz almost within the limits of the town, and a few days ago they shot the sentinel on the bastion of San Mateo in Vera Cruz—the whole town was alarmed, as an attack was expected, but only a few guerrillas were seen galloping away.

Gen. Douai, with one thousand French and I do not know how many of Marquez's men, is between Vera Cruz and Orizaba to protect the convoys, which however he is not strong enough to do. Of 205 cart loads of provisions and ammunitions of war that started from Vera Cruz, 35 have arrived in Cordova, 80 have been taken or burnt, and 90 remain on the road, short of mules. In Vera Cruz, provisions continue as scarce as ever; corn was worth $28 a cargo of 300 pounds, and most articles had to come from Havana and other West Indian Islands. The yellow fever was still raging, and in two weeks one hundred and forty-seven French had died.

The troops of the enemy are divided as follows: 6,000 men in Orizaba, which includes the forces of Marquez, 1,000 French, mostly marines and artillery, in Cordova, and 400 Zouaves in Chiquihuite. Of Marquez's men, there are 2,000 in Orizaba, which are represented as being well armed; however, the balance of his forces are in a deplorable condition; they desert in squads, and many are made prisoners. His cavalry is on the plain but perfectly worthless, as the horses are dying of starvation.

Two hundred and sixty four prisoners arrived in Orizaba some few days ago; they were all taken from the gang of De Brutton, and are mostly Indians who do not know the cause they have been fighting for. Orizaba is almost deserted by the Mexican families.—The Hacienda de Tecomaluca was sacked, and whatever provisions and cattle could be found taken to Orizaba, where bread was selling at 50 cents per pound.

If, under these circumstances, the rumors that French reinforcements have arrived in Vera Cruz prove to be true, it can be of no benefit to the French except they bring not only enough provisions, but also the means of transportation. Our army is in excellent condition, and I think Zaragoza will put off a final engagement until there is some show for reinforcements arriving in Cordova or Orizaba, for which at present there is not the slightest chance, the enemy being destitute of the means of transportation. The rumor that Zaragoza was seriously ill is not true, as he was according to latest advices in the Canada de Iretapa inspecting his troops.

AN ALABAMA HEROINE.—Some days ago Colonel Straight, of an Indiana regiment stationed at Huntsville, received information that thirty or forty miles south of Decatur there were in the mountains quite a number of loyal Alabamians anxious to enlist under the old flag, in the army of the Union. An expedition was fitted out with a view of giving protection and safe conduct to our lines to any disposed to join the Federal forces, and the report of Colonel Straight is before us. It seems that some two hundred loyal able bodied fighting Alabamians were found and conducted to Huntsville, where they have joined Colonel Straight's command. These men had been compelled, on account of their Union sentiments, to conceal themselves in the woods or in the hiding places of the mountains on account of the hostility and threats of their Secession neighbors. When the expedition reached their section not a man of them was to be found at home. Their wives and daughters, however, on being apprized of the mission of the Federal troops, put themselves at once on the move to communicate with the refugees. Colonel Straight in his report mentions an old lady, Mrs. Ann Campbell—who mounted a horse and rode thirty five miles and back, making seventy miles, bringing with her thirty recruits, and all inside of thirty six hours. Such lofty-souled patriotism as this act exhibits is worthy of being recorded in the annals of American loyal heroism.—St. Louis Republican.

"Oh my dear sir," said a poor sufferer to a dentist, "that is the second wrong tooth you have pulled out." "Very sorry, sir," said the blundering operator, "but as there were only three altogether when I commenced, I'm sure to be right next time."

SATURDAY MORNING, AUG 30, 1862

The News

Our telegraphic dispatches from Yreka contain very important and extraordinary news—important from the seat of war, and extraordinary from Minnesota. Our forces in Virginia, it seems have fallen back a short distance, and are now concentrating on the Rappahannock, where it is supposed the different divisions under Pope, McClellan, and other junior officers will unite and hold position until reinforced, or proper plans are matured for a new line of operations. This retrograde movement we believe has been owing to the crippled condition of our forces from sickness and other local causes, which has undoubtedly had a deplorable effect in diminishing the effective force and prevented the completion of former schemes for the taking of Richmond and cleaning out the rebels in that quarter. It must be remembered that this is the worst and most dangerous part of the season for our Northern troops to be exposed to the scorching rays and malignant atmosphere of a Southern climate, and recent accounts from our army have demonstrated the fact that disease and death has told with fearful effect upon our brave comrades; hence, we are not at all discouraged or much surprised at the backward movement indicated.

If McClellan can hold his position upon the Rappahannock, or in that neighborhood, until the hot weather is over—and our sick and disabled soldiers have sufficient time to recuperate, together with the reinforcements which are now being hurried forward, we feel confident that before another winter passes we shall hear and rejoice over many glorious victories won by our brave soldiers. Let us hope for the best in all things, and never despair. Our cause is just and must prevail, notwithstanding we may occasionally meet with reverses. Such things are to be expected, and should only nerve us to greater efforts or more firm determination to conquer.

The news from Minnesota is truly of a startling character, and comes upon us at an unexpected moment, chilling the blood and horrifying the feelings. It seems that the Indians of Meeker county in that State have become incensed at the delay of Government in paying their regular annuities, and have suddenly determined to take revenge upon the helpless and unsuspecting families of that region, and committed the most barbarous and murderous brutalities the inventive mind of savage cruelty can conceive. It is said they exceed their most savage brethren in their atrocities. More than fifty families have been massacred, and fears are entertained that many more will fall victims to this unexpected outbreak before a sufficient force can be sent there to check them in their mad career. Full details will be found under telegraphic news head.

THE COMET.—A scientific writer says: "In all ages of the world these anomalous objects have excited the deepest interest, not only among philosophers, but among all classes of men. The suddenness with which they sometimes blaze in the sky, the vast dimensions of their fiery trains, the exceeding swiftness with which they pursue their journey among the stars, the rapid disappearance of even the grandest of these seeming chaotic worlds, have all combined to invest these bodies with a power to excite a kind of superstitious terror which even the exact revelations of science cannot wholly dispel. In general they are regarded as omens of some terrible scourge to mankind, the precursor of war, pestilence or famine." Whether or not the comet now visible is a precursor of some terrible calamity that is to befall mankind who inhabit this poor little world, is not within our power to demonstrate, but certain it is that this eccentric body has not so suddenly made its appearance without some purpose or for some great object, either terrestrial or celestial, and that some great philosophical law controls and directs this wonderous phenomena. Where this comet came from or where it is going to, we are not sufficiently skilled in astronomical observations and calculations to determine, but from slight observation of its movements without the aid of a telescope, we are satisfied that its journey is performed with extraordinary speed, and will, ere the lapse of many days, either disappear altogether or suddenly burst upon us with apparently new directions and far greater visible dimensions. The contemplation of such profound investigations far exceeds our limited knowledge and hence we gladly give way to our young "devil"—who says that he has been taking astronomical "squints" at the long-tailed thing and can explain its status to a dot, viz:—Time of perihelion passage—near bed time. Longitude of perihelion—250 yards west, 11 feet north of the dog star. Longitude of the ascending node—slightly slanting. Inclination to the ecliptic—to take a drink. The semi axis—needs grease. Eccentricity—is very peculiar. Period in days, none—only seen in the night. Direction—making a straight shoot for Jeff Davis' Kingdom.

Eastern News.

A dispatch from Adjutant General Thomas says: The Union men of East Tennessee are held in confinement as prisoners of State. Gov Johnson has a corresponding number of traitors for exchange.

LOUISVILLE, Aug 20.—Col Garrard with six or seven hundred men, attacked Scott's Louisiana cavalry yesterday near London. After quite a severe fight Garrard defeated them.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21st. A New York citizen who left Richmond on the 1?th says at that time troops were pouring out of the city on the Virginia railroads. All the troops around Richmond were in motion towards the north. Stonewall Jackson is to-day [illegible] Gordonsville. None knew his whereabouts.

The Tribune's Fortress Monroe correspondent says Gen Heintzelman didn't accompany the army down the peninsula but went off in the direction of White House. It was commonly remarked that he was going to look up a fight.

LOUISVILLE, Aug 21st. The entire city council have been arrested for refusing to take the oath of allegiance but were released on resigning and giving bonds. The property of Mayor Henderson who has fled to the rebel army has been seized.

Two Indiana regiments four companies of cavalry, and one battery of artillery, have already crossed into this State.

It is understood that Gen Wright will throw all the Western troops of the new quota into Kentucky and forward them to East Tennessee, where the rebels are concentrating in large force.

The old regiments which have not been filled up to their full strength before the first of September will at once be filled by draft.

Advices from the west are to the effect that the forces under Coffee, Quantrell and other rebel chiefs, which were lately menacing Lexington are in full retreat southward. They are said to number four thousand. The Federals under General Blunt and Colonel Warren, are in hot pursuit with 5,000 troops and fourteen pieces of artillery. On Wednesday they attacked rebels' rear, killed two, captured thirty-one horses and quite a number of guns and other property fell into our hands. The pursuit is not to be relinquished until the rebels are driven from the State.

Indian Outbreak in Minnesota

ST PAUL (Minn.,) Aug 20.—The Indians of Meeker county exasperated at the non reception of money from the Government, attacked the whites in the town of Acton and killed a number of persons, men and women. Several were also massacred at the lower agency. The settlers are alarmed and coming down the Minnesota river. Troops have been sent since the disturbance.

ST PAUL (MINN.) Aug 22d. Reliable information from Fort Ridgely confirms the previous reports of Indian troubles in that region. The Indians at the Lower Sioux agency have been threatening vengeance for some time in consequence of the delay of payments due them by the Government. An outbreak finally occurred, and the greater number of whites in the vicinity were massacred. Forty five men sent against them, fell into an ambuscade after crossing the river near the agency. The greater number were killed; only seventeen returned to the Fort. On Monday night the light from burning buildings and grain stacks was seen in all directions. Escaped citizens came into the Fort during the night, giving accounts of horrors too terrible to imagine. The roads in the direction of New Ulm are lined with murdered men women and children.

A gentleman named Porter, just from New Ulm, sent there to learn the truth, arrived here last night. He says he reached that place on Tuesday morning and found the people preparing to bury five persons. Others were being constantly brought in, horribly mutilated. He saw four persons in one room wounded, having been cut with hatchets in the head and arms. In an adjoining room he saw a child with its head cut off. Twenty seven others were considerably mutilated. The people were fully awake to their danger and drilling with what arms they could obtain being determined to defend the town to the last. Porter left the place on Tuesday, and was overtaken in the evening by a messenger who brought information that the Indians, two hundred strong, attacked the town at five P M and burned several buildings. Before leaving the messenger saw several citizens fall. The people had barricaded the streets. Letters to Governor Ramsay say hundreds are known to be killed. The Governor has ordered mounted militia to the scene of action.

GEN PRENTISS HORSEWHIPPED IN ATLANTA, GEORGIA.—Recently, the Louisville Journal learns by a lady from Atlanta, a female of that place, reputed a lady, made grossly insulting remarks to General Prentiss, who is a prisoner there. He made no reply, but turned his back upon her contemptuously. For this an Atlanta man, taking a company with him, went and horsewhipped the distinguished prisoner. God grant that our armies may soon avenge that and a myriad other outrages.

MONEY ON THE BATTLEFIELD.—The Richmond Dispatch, in its account of the battle at Mechanicsville, says one man, in searching the pockets of the Federal soldiers dead on the field, found not less than $150 in gold; another not less than $500, another $1,000 in Federal notes. As a general thing, it says, "more money was found upon the dead on the field, than on any other we ever heard of."

General McClellan, in a letter to Governor Washburne of Maine dated July 15, says:—"New enlistments should be made to fill up old regiments, rather than to raise new ones. I would prefer fifty thousand recruits for my old regiments to one hundred thousand men organized in new regiments."

LOSING ITS FOREIGN BACKERS.—The rebel Confederacy seems to be losing its English backers of late. Whatever suspicions were entertained of the sincerity of English professions of neutrality, must give way before the recent speech of the Queen herself, and the public and Parliamentary speeches of Lord Palmerston, disavowing any idea of departing from the originally proclaimed policy of neutrality. Worse still the London Times, the journalistic bottleholder of the Southern bruiser, now calls the rebels "the Transatlantic dregs of the English cavaliers."—Marysville Appeal.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—Lieutenant J. H. Merriman, of the revenue service, lately acting Deputy Collector for Washington Territory, who was arrested at the instance of Collector Rankin for illegally carrying off the funds and other property belonging to that district, did not go on the steamer yesterday though he is not in custody. He says he believes he is right and will be sustained by the Government.

The steamship Corte was entirely destroyed by fire at Shanghae. She had a full cargo on board. She had made a successful trip to Hankow and back. The cargo included 80,000 taels of treasure most of which was saved. The fire originated in the engine room. It was rumored that a Chinaman set fire to the ship, but no authentic report had been made. The vessel was owned by Major Hensley.—She was under charter for $8,000 per month.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Dates to August 23d.

MARYSVILLE via YREKA, Aug 25.—New York, Aug 23. The Philadelphia Press says Gen Pope has fallen back across the Rappahannock, and made that stream a line of defense. The enemy is in great force on the south bank. He has made several ineffectual efforts to cross and turn our left flank, at the same time making demonstrations on our center. Such disposition of our army has been made that there need be no fear.

McClellan had arrived with a large force, a portion of his army. It is believed he has assumed command of both armies.

Fighting of a desultory character has been going on for several days. The enemy have been repulsed at all points by our batteries though not without the loss of some artillery men and horses.

The Evening Post says that letters received here state that a considerable portion of the army which have been in Western Virginia would arrive to-day under General Cox. It is also reported that western troops are pouring into Virginia via Harper's Ferry.

ST PAUL (MINN.) Aug 23.—Parties from the scene of the Indian disturbances reached here last night.

The State scouts estimate the number of whites already killed at 500. This opinion is based on the number of bodies found along the roads and trails. The civilized Indians exceeded their savage brethren in their atrocities. Mr. French, who has spent most of his life among the Indians, volunteered to go alone, trusting to his knowledge of Indians and its usages to escape detection, he arrived at the Upper Agency at night.

The place was literally the habitation of death.

He visited all the houses and found the occupants lying dead, some inside the houses and others lying scattered in yards.

He went to Hon. J. R. Brown's house and found the family, numbering 18, all murdered. He also visited Beaver creek and found 50 families massacred.

He writes to Governor Ramsey from Henderson, Aug 21, saying he left Fort Ridgely that morning. There were then 1000 Indians around the Fort. He thinks other tribes are joining the Sioux.

A Litchfield letter dated Glencoe, August 21st says the injury done by the stampede of settlers is immense. Such terror and desolation and woe can hardly be found in the South anywhere.

In McLeod, Meeker, and the northern part of Sibley, Indian this and adjoining counties available forces are being collected.

Gov. Sibley is now marching to the relief of Fort Ridgely.

Foreign News.

Dates are to August 13th.

The squadron at Ancona, Italy, has been ordered to watch the Adriatic coast. Garibaldi with five hundred volunteers, was marching in the direction of San Catela. His object seems to be to reach the coast of the Papal States. Palermo was tranquil. A Garibaldi manifestation had taken place at Lozela. At a theater in Milan, shouts were raised.—Rome or death. Garibaldi had occupied Rocco and Palestra, and at the latter place spoke as follows:

"The present state of affairs cannot continue. I go against the Government because it will not let me go to Rome. I go against France because she defends the Pope. I will have Rome at any price.—Rome or death. If I succeed, so much the better. If not I will destroy the Italy which I made myself."

The departure of volunteers from Palermo had ceased.

Just Arrived!—MR. HENDEE has arrived from San Francisco with a new assortment of Frames and Cases and is now prepared to take CARD PICTURES and other PHOTOGRAPHS in all the latest approved styles and at San Francisco Prices. He has made improvements in his Light and Rooms and will warrant all his work.

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease recourse should at once be had to Brown's Bronchial Troches, or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

CITY.

THE MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger CIRCULATION LIST than any other [illegible] published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store, and at Charles Barrett's Front street

[illegible].—It is perhaps not generally known that the city of Portland, which contains a population of at least four thousand souls is [illegible] commercial metropolis of the fine and fast growing State of Oregon, is the principal shipping and outfitting point for all the vast gold bearing region to the East and North is the largest and most wealthy city North of San Francisco, and the second city on the Pacific coast; is constantly thronged with thousands of all classes, ages, conditions and [illegible] from every nation, kindred and [illegible] on the earth, contains near fifty saloons, [illegible] and groceries, besides numerous [illegible] public places where the vicious habits and [illegible] depraved appetites of immoral characters [illegible] additional stimulants and encourage [illegible] and with all this the city of Portland [illegible] regular city police, or duly constituted [illegible] for preserving the peace and dignity of the place, or protecting its inhabitants [illegible] assination, robbery and incendiarism [illegible] except one City Marshal and his deputy, [illegible] special or private watchmen, employed and paid by private parties, whose [illegible] is to watch the property of those who [illegible] for so doing, and none others. [illegible] [illegible] noticed.

[illegible].—The Julia arrived last evening [illegible] the Cascades, bringing down eighty passengers and considerable gold dust by private [illegible] though but small amount per Wells [illegible] & Co., as the Express line failed to [illegible] We hear of no special news of im[illegible] from the mines, and did not receive [illegible] a copy of the Daily Mountaineer — [illegible] Mr. Newell send us a copy each [illegible] in exchange for a copy of the ORE[illegible] at regularly each morning?

[illegible] —Will take notice that the [illegible] are fast coming to a close for [illegible] of city tax; when, if found [illegible] all in their lamps, they will receive [illegible] entire sentence to fork over nolens

[illegible] STORY.—In order to keep up with [illegible] we announce to outsiders that an [illegible] gentleman," slightly afflicted with [illegible] scribendi, has been induced at slight [illegible] as the arduous task of penning [illegible] prize story, "founded on fact,"— [illegible], blood and thunder, and the [illegible] up"—together with an in[illegible] number of "cups of cold pizen"— [illegible] enveloped with a "yaller kiver [illegible] and which we are assured will surpass [illegible] previously printed for [illegible] of old maids, young lovers and [illegible] We have no definite [illegible] of the [illegible] which this story may be [illegible] that it shall not con[illegible] years. It will be published [illegible] each chapter being duly [illegible] by a suitable preface. We shall [illegible] compelled to send to New York [illegible] for suitable cuts to illustrate [illegible] forcible certain passages, as [illegible] chapter, which will be set to [illegible]

[illegible], Friday morning August 29th, [illegible] residence of J. B. Congle, of [illegible], Leonora C., daughter of E. F. [illegible] City, aged 14 years. [illegible] will be taken to Eugene City

[illegible] Market

[illegible] little change felt in the market [illegible] last quotations, except in the ar[illegible] which has an upward tendency, [illegible] of still greater advance, as there [illegible] season in market, and recent ad[illegible] indicate a rise in the San [illegible] market. Oats have suddenly de[illegible] now quoted at 50 cents, owing [illegible] crop coming in. The receipts of [illegible] during the week have been [illegible] a large number of peddling wag[illegible] daily come in, most of which were [illegible] with fruits, vegetables, &c., to supply [illegible] and families. Cotton goods are [illegible] on the rise, and no telling the approxi[illegible] Wool is also coming up in [illegible] and the demand [illegible] is becoming quite large. We [illegible] ability of dealers in Oregon [illegible] at least 45 cents per pound — [illegible] arrived during the week was [illegible] ship Oregon which brought a heavy [illegible] merchandise. The demand [illegible] and groceries is gradually in[illegible] above, and we hear of the sale [illegible] flour in a Portland ware house [illegible] at the Dalles at $7 00

THE WASHINGTON STATESMAN,

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER,

Published at Walla Walla, W. T.,

BY N. NORTHROP AND R. R. REES

Terms Invariably in Advance.

One year	$5 00
Six Months	2 50
Three Months	1 75

THE STATESMAN has reliable correspondents in all the mining regions of Oregon and Washington Territory—Powder River, Salmon River, Oro Fino, Colville, and the Bitter Root and Deer Lodge Valleys, and its facilities for obtaining news from these localities, both through its correspondents and the expresses running from Walla Walla to these points, are superior to those of any other paper published in Oregon or Washington Territory.

The paper is the same size as the Weekly Oregonian, and its large circulation in all the mining regions above mentioned renders it, to merchants and others, an excellent advertising medium. aug5 4mdw

LINES ON THE DEATH OF WM. G. WEATHERFORD

The ties of earthly love—
How quickly severed by a single breath!
The summons from above
Consigns the loved ones to the arms of death!

That Power, within whose breast
Is center'd Love beyond our mortal ken,
Issues the high behest,
And dust returns to mother dust again!

And is our grief but naught
To Him, who thus with dire and sudden stroke
The work of death hath wrought,
As the swift light'ning rends the firm set oak

Are all the hopes and fears,
The loves and joys we were so wont to cherish
To dissipate in tears?
Is every earth-born memory thus to perish!

No! Far beyond the tomb,
In the bright regions of the spirit land
Where never entered gloom,
Our loved ones gone before in beauty stand!

There tears are wiped away
There hearts meet hearts as in the days gone by
And from eternal day
The night of sorrow has been forced to fly

Parents and dear ones meet
To tread the paths by shining myriads trod
And earth-ties, once so sweet,
Find their renewal in the light of God

Weep, stricken parents, weep!
Nor strive to dry the fountain of your woe.
The dear boy laid to sleep,
Claims the fond tribute from loved ones below

Mourn, 'reft companions, mourn!
Fond friends lament with thee the bitter loss
The hearts of love, all torn,
Shall be bound up by Him who bore the cross.

Beyond these sighs and tears
The father's woe, the mother's rending grief—
The star of Hope appears—
The "Man of Sorrows" will afford relief!

THEODORE J. ECKERSON, U. S. A.

Borrowing and Lending.

MR. EDITOR:—The practice of borrowing and lending may be well enough, sometimes in fact, may be necessary, in some cases; but they should both be kept within bounds, and under proper regulations. This practice, I suppose, is nearly as old as the creation. Society could not well subsist, if neighbors were not disposed to accommodate one another in this way. Let a man's business or wealth be what it may, he cannot be so independent, as at no time to stand in need of borrowing. Unforseen accidents may happen at such a time and in such a manner as to make it impossible for him to purchase the thing he immediately wants. The thing may not be for sale anywhere in the neighborhood, so that he is obliged to borrow or stop the work.

But this practice may be carried too far. It may be carried so far as to be prejudicial both to the borrower and the lender. It ought to be kept under such limitations as to be mutually beneficial. "The borrower," says Solomon, "is a servant to the lender." This is sometimes the case. But it more frequently happens, that the lender is a servant to the borrower, and is obliged to serve him, not only in lending him what he wants to borrow, but in running after the things which have not been returned. If the borrower sets out with a determination to live by borrowing, without any intention of returning or paying in kind, his intention will soon be discovered, and he will find it impossible to borrow of any who are not slaves to his wishes. So, too, if he habitually neglects to return what he has borrowed, he will find that the lender will not endure the servitude of running after things which have not been returned.

They who lend household articles, or mechanics' tools, or implements of husbandry, generally expect to receive their own again —the very thing, where it can be done; where this cannot be done, something equivalent. But if they find that what is lent is lost, or forgotten, or broken, or wilfully stained, they will soon grow weary of obliging in this way; more especially if they be ill treated when they go after and ask for what belongs to them. The longer a thing has been lent, the more likely it is that it will never be returned, without being sought for by the lender, which is always very unpleasant business.

The lender ought always to be the judge of the propriety of lending or withholding his hand, let the borrower clamor as he may. For if the lender is obliged to lend whatever an unprincipled borrower wants, he can with propriety call nothing his own, let him pay for what he may; for there will be borrowers enough to deprive him of all his property. Still, it is always best to cultivate an obliging disposition. He who is altogether unmindful of his neighbor's interest, may expect to be paid down in his own coin; for his neighbor will be unmindful of him. Men grow tired of lending to those who never think of returning. In such cases, the borrower is worse than the beggar. The beggar does not deceive, as in his case no return is expected. The borrower may do much injury to others; the beggar cannot do much harm, as he has no power.

Borrowing frequently occasions the loss of much time and labor to the lender. Besides, it tries his patience to be obliged to run over to neighbor Slack's after the tools he lent him three months ago, and after his arrival there, to be obliged to wait two long hours, while neighbor Slack and his boys are rummaging all over the farm to find the tools which were thrown down in the very place where they were last used. No person ought to borrow what he does not intend promptly to return. For if lenders are obliged to run after their own tools, every time they want to use them, they virtually become slaves to the borrower.

In money matters, they who lend money for the accommodation of others are entitled to a prompt return at a specified time, with interest thereon. It is not right for a person to borrow money and promise to pay what he knows is not in his power, and never will be. This is fraud, and in this way many are ruined. It is wrong to make promises that cannot be performed, especially when there is no intention of performing them. Still, where unexpected losses and disappointments take place, allowances should be made. For there is no fencing against misfortunes. But where a man acts with fraudulent intentions, he ought to be condemned. For many have been deceived and ruined by fair promises and worthless securities, when in fact the promisor had no intention of fulfilling his engagements.

The habit of borrowing and lending farm tools, and other articles, where there is no great necessity for it, and which a little prudent forethought might prevent, is a very bad one, because it leads to unpleasant results, and creates much ill feeling in the neighborhood. It makes the lender a servant to the borrower. Whenever he misses any of his tools he is obliged to run over to neighbor Slack's, or to neighbor Easy's, or to neighbor Doolittle's, and see if he can find them. He may have forgotten to which of the three he lent them. And after spending the whole forenoon in pursuit of his tools, he returns to his work with feelings better imagined than described. No one would be unwilling to lend any of the common articles in use, if he could have a reasonable assurance that they would be promptly returned. But to be obliged to run after them every time they are wanted is a great trial to one's patience.

JOHN GOLDSBURY.

REMARKS.—Excellent. If every farmer in the United States would read the above, and be guided by the reasonable and incontrovertible truths which it lays down, there would be greater prosperity and a less amount of anxious, unhappy feeling, all over the land.—N. E. Farmer.

An old maid being at a loss for a pin cushion, and being too much occupied with herself to make one, made use of an onion. On the following morning she found that all the needles, like herself the previous evening, had tears in their eyes.

Non-Resident Notice.

Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah, at the November Term thereof, A. D. 1862.

S. Sherlock, W. Sherlock and C. P. Bacon, partners in trade under the firm name and style of S Sherlock & Co., Plaintiffs, vs. A. J. Cain, Defendant.

IT HAVING BEEN MADE TO APPEAR TO THE SATISFACTION of the Judge of said Court that you, the said A. J. Cain are not a resident of the State of Oregon and cannot be found in said State, after due and diligent search and that you have property in said State, and that said Court has jurisdiction of the subject of the above entitled action, and that service of summons cannot be made on you, and that a cause of action in the suit above entitled exists against you, it was ordered that service be made in this cause by publication of notice to you, the said A. J. Cain. Now, the said defendant, A. J. Cain, is hereby notified that the said plaintiffs have filed their complaint against you, the said defendant, in said Court, claiming to recover against you the sum of $184 25 and interest thereon at 10 per cent per annum, from the 1st day of April, A. D. 1861, for a balance due them for goods, wares and merchandise sold and by them delivered to you. And also their affidavit for an attachment against your goods and chattels, lands and tenements and a writ of attachment was duly issued and levied upon your property.

Now, unless you, the said A. J. Cain, shall, and do appear in the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Multnomah county, on the second Monday in November, A. D. 1862, and answer the plaintiff's complaint filed herein, the same will be taken for confessed, and the prayer thereof will be granted by the Court.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this the 8th day of August, A. D. 1862.

J. M. BRECK, Clerk,

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,
Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases, and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., Late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds; Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary; the late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs, and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

OFFICE HOURS—From 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay. Consultations, by letter or otherwise, FREE.

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases, Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines used are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many who, in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and perfect cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption.

But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse, that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities, and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines, with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease, who having recovered their former health, and impelled by gratitude, make known their cases and remedial agent, and their statement are authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands [illegible] imperiously command their publicity; and we commend them to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate.—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of uncontrollable passion in youth, depressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but alas, after a few weeks and in several instances months, of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever gaining my health, strength and energy, and as a last resort and with but a faint hope called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after [illegible]

MARYSVILLE, June 2d, 1855.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Dear Sir: I have used the best of your medicine [illegible]

[illegible] entirely and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, so that I would not get excited and tremulous at every thing. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at the complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those scrofulous blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those emissions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. Believe me, gratefully yours,

THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with in attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning; and although insensible to the agonies, I yet dreaded the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state, and having, previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation called upon Dr L J Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services; regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.

[L. S.] MEYER YADLOWSKY.

State of California, county of San Francisco, ss. Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 1st day of August, A. D. 1856.

[L. S.] GILBERT A. GRANT, Notary Public.

Dr L J CZAPKAY'S Private Medical and Surgical Institute is on Sacramento st., below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco. The Doctor offers free consultation, and asks no remuneration unless he effects a cure. Office hours from 9 a m to 9 p m.

SPERMATORRHŒA, or LOCAL WEAKNESS, nervous debility, lassitude, low spirits, weakness of the limbs and back, indisposition and incapability for labor and study, dullness of apprehension, loss of memory, aversion to society, love of solitude, timidity, self-distrust, dizziness, headache, involuntary discharges, pains in the side, affections of the eye, pimples on the face, sexual or other infirmities in man, are cured by the justly celebrated physician and surgeon, Dr. L J Czapkay. His method of curing diseases is new, (unknown to others,) and hence the great success.

All consultations, by letter or otherwise, free.

LINES ON THE DEATH OF WM. G WEATHERFORD

Th ties of earthly love
How quickly severed by a single breath
The summons from above
Consigns the loved ones to the arms of death

That Power [illegible] whose breath
Is center'd Love beyond our mortal ken
Issues the high behest
And dust returns to mother dust again

And is our grief but naught
To Him who thus with love and [illegible] strikes
The work of death hath wrought
As the swift lightning rends the firm set oak

Are all the hopes and fears
The loves and joys we were so wont to cherish
To dissipate in tears
Is every earth born memory thus to perish

No! Far beyond the tomb
In the bright regions of the spirit land
Where never entered gloom
Our loved ones gone before in beauty stand

There tears are wiped away
There hearts meet hearts as in the days gone by
And from eternal day
The night of sorrow has been forced to fly

Parents and dear ones meet
To tread the paths by shining myriads trod
And earth ties once so sweet
Find their renewal in the light of God

Weep, stricken parents, weep
Nor strive to dry the fountain of your woe
The dear boy laid to sleep
Claims the fond tribute [illegible]

Mourn, reft companions, mourn
Fond friends lament with thee the bitter loss
The hearts of love all torn
Shall be bound up by Him who bore the cross

Beyond the sighs and tears
The father's woe, the mother's rending grief
The star of Hope appears
The [illegible] will afford relief

Borrowing and Lending.

MR EDITOR —The practice of borrowing and lending may be well enough, sometimes—in fact, may be necessary, in some cases, but they should both be kept within bounds, and under proper regulations This practice, I suppose is nearly as old as the creation Society could not well subsist, if neighbors were not disposed to accommodate one another in this way. Let a man's business or wealth be what it may, he cannot be so independent, as at no time to stand in need of borrowing Unforseen accidents may happen at such a time and in such a manner as to make it impossible for him to purchase the thing he immediately wants The thing may not be for sale anywhere in the neighborhood, so that he is obliged to borrow or stop the work.

But this practice may be carried too far It may be carried so far as to be prejudicial both to the borrower and the lender It ought to be kept under such limitations as to be mutually beneficial "The borrower," says Solomon, "is a servant to the lender" This is sometimes the case. But it more frequently happens, that the lender is a servant to the borrower, and is obliged to serve him, not only in lending him what he wants to borrow, but in running after the things which have not been returned If the borrower sets out with a determination to live by borrowing, without any intention of returning or paying in kind, his intention will soon be discovered, and he will find it impossible to borrow of any who are not slaves to his wishes So, too, if he habitually neglects to return what he has borrowed, he will find that the lender will not endure the servitude of running after things which have not been returned

They who lend household articles, or mechanics' tools, or implements of husbandry, generally expect to receive their own again unhurt—the very thing, where it can be done; where this cannot be done, something equivalent But if they find that what is lent is lost, or forgotten, or broken, or wilfully retained, they will soon grow weary of obliging in this way; more especially if they be ill treated when they go after and ask for what belongs to them The longer a thing has been lent, the more likely it is that it will never be returned, without being sought for by the lender, which is always very unpleasant business.

The lender ought always to be the judge of the propriety of lending or withholding his hand, let the borrower clamor as he may For if the lender is obliged to lend whatever an unprincipled borrower wants, he can with propriety call nothing his own, let him possess what he may, for there will be borrowers enough to deprive him of all his property Still, it is always best to cultivate an obliging disposition He who is altogether unmindful of his neighbor's interest, may expect to be paid down in his own coin; for his neighbor will be unmindful of him Men grow tired of lending to those who never think of returning In such cases, the borrower is worse than the beggar The beggar does not deceive, as in his case no return is expected The borrower may do much injury to others, the beggar cannot do much harm, as he has no power.

Borrowing frequently occasions the loss of much time and labor to the lender Besides, it tries his patience to be obliged to run over to neighbor Slack's after the tools he lent him three months ago, and after his arrival there, to be obliged to wait two long hours, while neighbor Slack and his boys are rumaging all over the farm to find the tools which were thrown down in the very place where they were last used No person ought to borrow what he does not intend promptly to return For if lenders are obliged to run after their own tools, every time they want to use them, they virtually become slaves to the borrower

In money matters, they who lend money for the accommodation of others are entitled to a prompt return at a specified time, with interest thereon It is not right for a person to borrow money and promise to pay what he knows is not in his power, and never will be This is fraud, and in this way many are ruined It is wrong to make promises that cannot be performed, especially when there is no intention of performing them Still, where unexpected losses and disappointments take place, allowances should be made For there is no fencing against misfortunes But where a man acts with fraudulent intentions, he ought to be condemned For many have been deceived and ruined by fair promises and worthless securities, when in fact the promisor had no intention of fulfilling his engagements

The habit of borrowing and lending farm tools and other articles, where there is no great necessity for it and which a little prudent forethought might prevent is a very bad one because it leads to unpleasant results, and creates much ill feeling in the neighborhood It makes the lender a servant to the borrower Whenever he misses any of his tools he is obliged to run over to neighbor Slack's, or to neighbor [illegible]'s, or to neighbor Doolittle's, and see if he can find them He may have forgotten to which of the three he lent them And after spending the whole forenoon in pursuit of his tools, he returns to his work with feelings better imagined than described No one would be unwilling to lend any of the common articles in use if he could have a reasonable assurance that they would be promptly returned But to be obliged to run after them every time they are wanted is a great trial to one's patience

☞ Communications strictly confidential Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay Consultations by letter or otherwise, FREE

Address, DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco

Of all diseases, the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and perfect cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption [illegible] and many other diseases and should be a terror [illegible] human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected —a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes throat and lungs entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of Self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures — Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State Oregon and Washington Territory by patients communicating their symptoms by letter

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR L J CZAPKAY Medical Institute, Sacramento street below Montgomery opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office San Francisco

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease, who having recovered their former health, and impelled by gratitude make known their cases and the method of cure. The statements are authenticated by a Notary Public [illegible] and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted

Certificate — The undersigned [illegible] three who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly affected, where a permanent relief [illegible] obtained [illegible] thus publicly express his sincere gratitude to Dr L J Czapkay for the entire recovery of his health Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practice of an uncontrollable passion in youth, depressed in body and mind unable to perform even the most trifling [illegible] the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance [illegible] I found to my unutterable horror that instead of relief my symptoms became more alarming [illegible] my health strength and energy, and as a last resort and with but a faint hope called upon Dr Czapkay who after examining my case, prescribed the medicines which almost instantly relieved me [illegible] I was surprised by the result [illegible] blessings of health [illegible] I became [illegible] [illegible] as to be able to perform [illegible] and [illegible] others, the incapability to study and want of application, the frightful exciting [illegible] night fall, wet by involuntary discharges [illegible] and in fact in two months after having [illegible] [illegible] I feel myself [illegible] with gratitude [illegible] consigned to an early grave [illegible] together the source of [illegible] offer this testimony [illegible] under his care [illegible]

Dr L J Czapkay San Francisco—Sir I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more and feel very well except that I have not entirely got my strength yet but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your Institute, with my constitution, as I thought, broken entirely and no cure in sight [illegible] I was able to do something [illegible] to cause the [illegible] and strength to my [illegible] I feel [illegible] excited and trembling at everything Now that you know what I expected you may judge of my [illegible] I suffered [illegible] symptoms [illegible] my skin [illegible] [illegible] and I [illegible] the [illegible] having fully [illegible] Thanks [illegible] over your charge and [illegible] benefit [illegible] newspapers Believe me, gratefully yours

CERTIFICATE —Prompted by an honest feeling of my heart I wish to state to the public, in order that it may lead to a commendation not only as an act of scientific skill but that of humanity also About two years ago I had fits, and from causes unknown to me was seized with a fit of epilepsy which, owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the disease [illegible] I was thereby led to believe [illegible] the skill of any physician I was frequently while in pursuit of my calling thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies I yet despaired the miseries of my life and sought to look upon those who would render assistance [illegible] me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miserable While in this state, and having previous to my affliction tasted the sweets of life I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician and by recommendation called upon Dr L J Czapkay [illegible] and of my inability to reward him for his services, regardless of which however he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was in a short time restored to perfect health Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness I consider it due to myself and all afflicted to make this case public, in order that those in like [illegible] may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed
